195	Why is it important that the baby be oriented head first before it passes through the birth canal?	This position makes it easier and safer for the baby to be birthed because the head comes out first and doesn't run the risk of the head getting stuck in the uterus.	https://www.verywellhealth.com/cephalic
196	Why do you think the umbilical cord must be clamped before it is cut?	Since the cord is still connected to the placenta it still has fluids flowing through it so clamping it will allow for the fluids not to come out once it's cut.
197	Are they similar in every way?	Not all twins are similar in every way, both physically and in their characteristics.
197	If we are unique creations of God, how are twins uniquely different?	Twins appear very similar, but there are slight differences such as in the fingerprints that make each child unique.	Teachers Edition pg. 197 (Understand
